News from the Big Room Flock

March 18, 2022

We had a wonderful time with Pi day on Monday. The girls had such delicious pie options to choose from. Thank you to my fabulous, beautiful parents for your generosity. We drew and labeled circles. They figured out diameters, circumference, area, and radius using formulas. We memorized Pi; Kerri took the prize for most numbers memorized after the decimal, 43 places to be exact. We worked with a compass to draw circles and realized it was a little trickier than it looked. We did a free write story that included both types of Pi/pie, and we escaped the Oval (round) office in an escape room activity.

On Wednesday, we made a trip to the library and did our silent reading at Mrs. B's house.

On Thursday, we made Green Eggs and Ham to enjoy as a class.

I just love reading month. It helps with the grey skies and gloomy weather. This group of young ladies has shown 100% participation, making it even better. At the moment, Ava is leading with 710 at-home reading minutes. Reading minute sheets need to be turned in on March 21, and the final sheet will be done on March 24th, just before spring break.

It was great fun to see so many at the Foundry fundraiser.

Because of the lost day on Friday last week, we will be finishing spelling/vocabulary work next week. There will be no new spelling until the week of April 24. We will, however, start reviewing for our end-of-the-year tests over the vocabulary of all the lessons, which we will do in May. We will do final testing for lesson 18 sometime next week, before the break.
