

News from the Big Room Flock

March 4, 2022

The Big Room is excited for reading month. Prizes will be given for “most minutes read” and participation in our special events. This is just for fun and not meant to stress anyone out. We will be reading extra in our room during March.

We talked about Shrove Tuesday and Ash Wednesday this week. I encouraged the girls to challenge themselves during this time to dig into the Bible a bit more on their own, think about giving something up, or adding something to their days that were kind or helpful to someone else. We also enjoyed a King Cake made and delivered by our fabulous Ms. Nicole. Mrs. B found the crown in her piece, so she got to be queen for the day.

We also celebrated Dr. Seuss’ Birthday on Wednesday with mammoth-sized cupcakes. Yep, we were all sugared up for sure!

We finished our unit on the Tabernacle in the Bible and moved into our Easter story unit.

The first set of reading minutes should be turned in on Monday, the 7th.

All-new monthly work was opened up on February 28 and will be due on March 24, the last day of school before Spring Break.

We will have regular spelling and vocabulary work and tests in the next two weeks. Then we will resume regular spelling when we return from Spring Break.

Thank you for promptly returning pizza forms and report cards.
