

News from the Big Room Flock

October 29, 2021

It has been a jam-packed week. Our trip to Friskies was so much fun. I wish it had been a bit warmer, but the hot cider kept me going! It is a joy to spend time with your beautiful children.

We also went to my house for our second baking challenge.

Hopefully, you are checking into ClassDojo often to see pictures of our adventures. All three girls did really well with reading the recipe and following directions. We agree that the cookies turned out well. Then it was back to school for recess, lunch, and squeezing in other subjects like spelling and science. On Friday, we ended the week with Chapel. Drills, The Cafe opening, and art. We also closed out October work. On Monday, we will open up all of the monthly work for November.

I will be out on November 3 and 4. Pastor Gary is having much-needed knee surgery. Mrs. Bronson will be in on Wednesday, and Ms. Katie Reed will be in on Thursday. Hopefully, they will want me back on Friday. If there are any questions or problems, I will be available by phone.

November will be a busy month; I am planning a trip to the Library and a baking day on November 11. On that day, we will also be visiting local cemeteries and placing flags by the stones of our outstanding Veterans. Permission slips are in this week's Friday Folder, along with new pizza slips for the month. I really appreciate your promptness with all these notes etc.; they help keep me prepared and organized. I understand it is a lot. I will most likely never again be gifted with children I can toss in my car and go with as easily as I can this year, and they are so good. It seems a shame not to enjoy.

Please sign up online or in the office for a conference on November 12.

Your kiddos have been working so hard, and I would love to share with you their success and answer any questions you might have.

Ways and Means gifted us $300 for the hard work at the soup supper. I was so proud of each one of them. They all dug deep even when they were tired.
