

News from the Big Room Flock

September 10, 2021

It has been a fantastic first week of school! We have gotten so much accomplished. I had to reach into next week with tasks because they have been so on top of things. They are going to keep me on my toes.

First monthly work assignments have been handed out and explained. There will be some work time for these assignments during the week, but these will be mainly homework pieces.

First math lessons have been completed successfully, and the kiddos remember a lot from last year. The first chapter is a bit of a review, which is nice for everyone.

In Bible, we are starting with the Tower of Babel. Why was God so angry about this project? What were the people's real motives? We also backtracked a bit and touched on Creation and the first sin. We are working with a new curriculum we tried out last spring from BJU. I think we are going to enjoy working through this book.

In Science, we will be exploring the 5 Areas of Well-Being. These include physical, mental, academic, social, and emotional Well-Being. I am so excited to work with these kiddos on these essential concepts.

Dates to remember: Back to School Parent meeting for the Big Room is on Monday, September 13 at 6:55.

September 16- Big Room travels to Central Lake Library (note in F.F)

September 24-Big Room travels to Mrs. B's house for cooking. (F.F)

September 25-Big Room Snack Shack(name not yet set on) opens

October 20-half day Teachers go to CEA conference in Grand Rapids

October 21-22 No School teachers are at the conference

Have a beautiful weekend. Please make sure your kiddos get some rest!

Mrs. Bekkering

231-313-1414 pbekkering64@gmail.com